The Best Guaranty of Merit Is Open Publicity.

Every bottle of Dr. Pierce's world-famed medicines leaving the great laboratory at Buffalo, N. Y., has printed upon its wrapper all the ingredients entering into its composition. This fact alone places Dr. Pierce's Family Medicines in a class all by themselves. They cannot be classed with patent or secret medicines because they are neither. This is why so many unprejudiced physicians prescribe them and recommend them to their patients. They know what they are composed of, and that the ingredients are those endorsed by the most eminent medical authorities.

The further fact that neither Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the great stomach tonic, liver invigorator, heart regulator and blood purifier, nor his "Favorite Prescription" for weak, over-worked, broken-down, nervous women, contains any alcohol, also entitles them to a place all by themselves.

Many years ago, Dr. Pierce discovered that chemically pure glycerine, of proper strength, is a better solvent and preservative of the medicinal principles residing in our indigenous, or native, medicinal plants than is alcohol; and, furthermore, that it possesses valuable medicinal properties of its own, being demulcent, nutritive, antiseptic, and a most efficient antiferment.

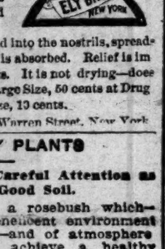
Neither of the above medicines contains alcohol, or any harmful, habit-forming drug, as will be seen from a glance at the formula printed on each bottle wrapper. They are safe to use and potent to cure.

Not only do physicians prescribe the above, non-secret medicines largely, but the most intelligent people employ them—people who would not think of using the ordinary patent, or secret medicines. Every ingredient entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's medicines has the strongest kind of an endorsement from leading medical writers of the several schools of practice. No other medicines put up for like purposes has any such professional endorsement.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. Constipation is the cause of many diseases. Cure the cause and you cure the disease. One "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. Druggists sell them, and nothing is "just as good." Easy to take as candy.

Nasal CATARRH

In all its stages.



Ely's Cream Balm

cleanses, soothes and heals the diseased membrane. It cures catarrh and drives away a cold in the head quickly.

Cream Balm is placed into the nostrils, spreads over the membrane and is absorbed. Relief is immediate and a cure follows. It is not drying—does not produce sneezing. Large Size, 50 cents at Drug gists or by mail; Trial Size, 10 cents.

ELY BROTHERS, 56 Warren Street, New York.

HEALTHY PLANTS

Require the Most Careful Attention as Well as Good Soil.

Did you ever see a rosebush which—despite the most beneficent environment of soil—of sunshine—and of atmosphere—seemed never to achieve a healthy growth.

A ton of manure will not help a plant that has a canker eating out its heart.

You must destroy the cause before you can remove the effect.

You cannot cure Dandruff and Baldness by rubbing on hair lotions, and rubbing in vaseline, etc.

You must look to the cause of the trouble—it's a germ at the roots of your hair which causes it to fall out.

Newbro's Herpicide destroys the germ, and healthy hair is the sure result.

Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Two sizes—50 cents and $1.00.

E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, Special Agents.

PAIN

Pain in the head—pain anywhere, has its cause. Pain is congestion, pain is blood pressure—nothing else usually. At least, so says Dr. Shoop, and to prove it he has created a little pink tablet. That tablet—called Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablet—coaxes blood pressure away from pain centers. Its effect is charming, pleasingly delightful. Gently, though safely, it surely equalizes the blood circulation.

If you have a headache, it's blood pressure.

If it's painful periods with women, same cause.

If you are sleepless, restless, nervous, it's blood congestion—blood pressure. That surely is a certainty, for Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets stop it in 20 minutes, and the tablets simply distribute the unnatural blood pressure.

Bruise your finger, and doesn't it get red, and swell, and pain you? Of course it does. It's congestion, blood pressure. You'll find it where pain is—always. It's simply Common Sense.

We sell at 25 cents, and cheerfully recommend

Dr. Shoop's Headache Tablets

Portrait of Gen. Lee.

A portrait of General Robert E. Lee was unveiled in the rooms of the Virginia Historical Society in Richmond, Saturday evening. The picture was painted and presented to the society by Mrs. A. F. Andrews (nee Minnegerode), of Fairfax county, granddaughter of Dr. Charles Minnegerode, war-time pastor of St. Paul's Church, in Richmond, of which General Lee was a member.

The picture is done in oil, measuring thirty-eight inches by forty-eight inches (inside measurement), with an eight-inch gold leaf Florentine frame.

It represents the Confederate general in a characteristic pose, giving an excellent idea of the poise of his head and the fine profile, portraying all the traits of Lee as a soldier, of Lee as a type of the Virginia gentleman.

The coloring is clearly and richly done, the gray coat with the brass buttons and gold stars, standing out well defined against the heavier background. In front of the old soldier and just to one side is draped a Confederate battle flag.

All of the members of the Lee family in Richmond were present at the unveiling.

Miss Mary Custis Lee, daughter of General Lee, introduced the two little girls of Captain R. E. Lee, jr., as the only two granddaughters of General Lee, and spoke of the pleasure the children had in being present and in unveiling the picture of their grandfather.

Says Hudson Assaulted Her.

Peter Hudson and Herbert Steptoe, the two negroes charged with assaulting Miss Gladys Shelton in Amherst county, January 7, were taken to Lynchburg yesterday afternoon by Sheriff Beard and Detective Baldwin. By order of the adjutant general they were met at the depot by the Home Guard, who then escorted the party across James river to the office of Justice Dawson, where Commonwealth's Attorney Evans and Miss Shelton, with others were present.

Miss Shelton again identified Peter Hudson as the negro who attacked her, but failed to identify Steptoe. The negroes were asked a number of questions as to their movements the day of the assault. Both declared their innocence, and a signed statement made by Steptoe in Roanoke jail in which he states that he was cutting rails on the 7th, was read and acknowledged by him as his. No other evidence was introduced although the commonwealth's attorney stated that he had some which he would produce later.

Both men were held for the grand jury, and were then taken back to Roanoke. Officers who have investigated the case state that Hudson can prove an alibi, but that Steptoe's statement can be shown to be incorrect in many particulars. Some of the officers declare that they have sufficient evidence to convict Steptoe of the crime.

Lake Storm.

A dispatch from Buffalo, N. Y., says that up to yesterday afternoon four deaths had been reported as the result of Sunday's storm.

It is estimated that the storm caused from $1,000,000 to $1,200,000 damage at Buffalo. At Niagara Falls damage to the amount of $25,000 was done to the Great Gorge railroad, while in the heart of the city buildings valued at about $25,000 were demolished.

From every city and town along the lake front reports of heavy losses are received. Inland towns also suffered considerably, and it is estimated that the damage done to property in Buffalo and the immediate vicinity will aggregate $2,000,000.

The storm lasted almost 24 hours, during which time the velocity of the wind varied from 42 to 85 miles an hour.

Mrs. Garrison, mother of the station agent of the Lake Shore railroad, at Farnham, was killed during the night by a building being blown over on her. She was decapitated. Over a mile of the roadbed of the Great Gorge route at Niagara Falls has been carried away by the high water.

The United States Militia.

In case of need, it is possible for the military authorities, under direction of the President, to mobilize an army of 13,349,881 fighting men, according to the annual report of the military secretary of the army on the militia of the country. Since the passage of the militia act by Congress in 1903, the militia of the country has been technically divided into two classes—the organized and reserve militia. According to the report, the organized militia of the District of Columbia and all the states and territories on Dec. 31, 1905, aggregated 112,300, while the unorganized militia, aggregated 13,257,491. The reserve militia is composed of every able-bodied male citizen of the United States and every foreigner who has declared his intentions of citizenship, between the ages of 18 and 45 years of age. By provisions of the law, it is possible for the President to call upon every citizen thus specified, in time of urgent need in war, giving him practically the powers of conscription.

Does Coffee disagree with you? Probably it does! Then try Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee. "Health Coffee" is a clever combination of parched cereals and nuts. Not a grain of real Coffee, remember, in Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee, yet its flavor and taste matches closely old Java and Mocha Coffee. If your stomach, heart, or kidneys can't stand Coffee drinking, try Health Coffee. It is wholesome, nourishing, and satisfying. It's safe even for the youngest child. Sold by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggist.

Gen. G. W. Custis Lee.

There is living in retirement in Virginia the man who may be called the last master of Arlington, though he was actually in possession of the historic estate, now coverted into the national cemetery.

Representative of some of the the most famous names in the past of our country, Gen. George Washington Custis Lee, great-grandson of Martha Washington, grandson of Light Horse Harry Lee and also of Washington's adopted son, George Washington Parke Custis, great nephew of Richard Henry Lee and Francis Lightfoot Lee, signers of the Declaration of Independence, and eldest son of the great Confederate chieftain, Gen. Robert E. Lee, "Custis" Lee, as he is familiarly known, is entering the autumn of a dignified and noble life, a career too little known to the American people, who would not be slow to estimate at its true value its high, sustained and even quality.—[New Orleans Picayune.

A Tragic Finish.

A watchman's neglect permitted a leak in the great North Sea dyke, which a child's finger could have stopped, to become a ruinous break, devastating an entire province of Holland. In like manner Kenneth McIver, of Vanceboro, Me., permitted a little cold to go unnoticed until a large tragic finish was only averted by Dr. King's New Discovery. He writes: "Three doctors gave me up to die of lung inflammation caused by a neglected cold; but Dr. King's New Discovery saved my life.' Guaranteed best cough and cold cure at E. S. Leadbeater & Son's drug store. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Subsidence of Land.

In a recent report made to the United States Geological Survey N. H. Darton, of the corps, had this to say:

"There can be no doubt that all the Eastern and New England States as far inland as Washington, D. C., and as far north as the Carolinas are undergoing a topographical and geological change. Investigations along the coast from Maine to South Carolina show that there is a gradual but constant subsidence of land below the sea level, which has been going on for an indefinite period. Of course, it is difficult to ascertain definite figures because of the great range of years necessary to make observations, and because we cannot rely upon registrations made 100 years ago. It will require many centuries before the sea line will encroach upon the cities. But there is no reason to believe that this subsidence will not continue."

Rockefeller in Georgia.

Sunday had an interesting topic of conversation in the attendance of John D. Rockefeller on the services of the big Bethel church, the leading Baptist church of Augusta, Ga. He occupied a pew between two negroes and when the collection plate was passed there was a general craning of necks to see how much the oil king would put in. He dropped a silver dollar into the plate and then recalled it and emptied his pockets of change. It amounted to about $20. Mr. Rockefeller is making a stay of several days in Augusta.

Alexandria Gazette
SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS
VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

TUESDAY EVENING, JAN. 22. 1907.

WHILE the many admirers of Senator Tillman's bold course and honesty in representing the southern section of this country see nothing in the South Carolinian to warrant a revision of the opinion that he is the right man in the right place, they are aware of the fact that he urges no claims to infallibility and is therefore liable to mistakes as other mortals. The standpoint he took yesterday in answering Senator Spooner's unwarranted attack upon him a few days ago was proper, and while his language was bold and defiant, it was doubtless justifiable. Had he stopped at this point, however, and allowed the smoke from his columbiads to have settled over his assailant, all would have been well, but, unfortunately, he essayed another role for which nature seems not to have intended him. Cartoonists are born, not manufactured, and when he likened Senators to burnt cork artists he struck a frost, and later the doors were closed in order that the world might not witness unfortunate scenes in such an august body as the United States Senate. Later Senator Tillman, honest man as he is, apologized for his figures of speech. It was sad, to say the least. But the illustrious South Carolina Senator is not the only truly great man who has made similar mistakes. Macaulay in his "Life of Frederick the Great" gives many of the details of the intimacy which at one time existed bewteen the Prussian monarch and Voltaire. Frederick was endowed with all the powers of a statesman and was a natural-born leader of men. The Frenchman was equally as great in his line as a poet and wit But, strange to say, both imagined their weak points their Gibraltar. Frederick believed he had been favored by the Muses and was an inspired poet. Voltaire, on the other hand, dreamed that he possessed the ability necessary to statecraft and that he could handle the ribbons of an empire. These two great men finally parted company disgusted with each other's weaknesses. But long before either Frederick or Voltaire flourished Æsop, a Greek sage, wrote a fable to illustrate the absurdity of attempting to fill parts in life for which nature has not intended us. A wolf had captured a goat, and was about to devour the capricorn when the latter requested the lupus to play a pipe in order that its victim might dance and be merry before being devoured. The wolf consented, and while it was making ludicrous attempts to extract music from the pipe the attention of hunters was attracted and they appeared on the scene. In the panic which followed the goat escaped. The wolf in its flight is represented as saying, "I was born a butcher, not a musician, and I should have stuck to my calling." The moral has been applicable in all ages.

THE ATTEMPTS last night to burn the public house on the northwest corner of Duke and Fayette streets were disbolical. Fortunately two policemen were in the locality at the time the fire blazed up, and the flames were subdued before serious consequences followed. The temperature was below the freezing point at the time, and it was the witching hour when honest men were supposed to be indoors. A biting northwest wind was prevailing, and the water from the hose froze as it fell; but the firemen were equal to the occasion and soon subdued both fires. In this connection it is proper to again call attention to the fact that this city has for some time been infected with pyromaniacs, who, in order to feed a thirst for excitement, have no regard for the distress they cause. Generally such fiends select unoccupied buildings or stables to which to apply the torch, but last night they fixed upon a frame public house adjoining a large frame dwelling. Had either fire gotten beyond control, embers would no doubt been blown across the street and among the many freight cars in the Southern Railway depot. Some may have been loaded with powder and Alexandria might have experienced a horror similar to those which have recently occurred in other places. About ten years ago the Mayor of this city was requested by Council to offer a reward of one hundred dollars for the apprehension and conviction of incendiaries. Such action might be beneficial now.

AS ANTICIPATED, President Roosevelt's triump over his enemies in the Senate was made complete yesterday by the absolute surrender of the anti-administration forces, including Senator Foraker. The man from Ohio, who started the attack upon Mr. Roosevelt and questioned his right to dismiss the three companies of negro troops implicated in the Brownsville riot, was obliged to offer the resolution agreed upon by the leaders, declaring that the Senate does not question either the President's right in the matter or the justice of his course. Mr. Foraker's humiliation could not have been increased, for the compromise resolution, which all the Senators, democrats and republicans alike, will vote for, carries an emphatic denial of all that Mr. Foraker has been charging in his speeches, and of all that he has been contending for. The resolution was the result of Sunday's conferences and agreements, and was accepted by the entire republican side of the Senate before the body assembled yesterday because nothing less would suit the President, and nothing less would prevent the President's friends from voting with the democrats for the resolution offered by Senator Blackburn. The threatened rupture in the party which such a course would have revealed, it was realized by Messrs Aldrich and Foraker, would reflect nothing but discredit upon themselves and their followers. They had been caught in a scheme to make the public think the President had done something wrong, and when the President threatened to expose their real purposes, by putting the question they had raised themselves to the practical test of a vote, they turned tail and ran. Instead, therefore, of the situation remaining a serious one, it has become ludicrous through the proceedings of yesterday.

AMONG the new Senators, Mr. Taylor, of Tennessee, is an ex-Governor; Messrs. Dixon, of Montana, Curtis, of Kansas, and Smith, of Michigan, are graduates of the House; and Mr. Crane, of Massachusetts, appointed by the Governor to succeed Senator Hoar, was elected to succeed himself. Only a small number of the men, like Mr. Guggenheim, of Colorado, are elected by the Legislature without having been previously elected by the people to be Governor or Congressman, or to some other office.

FEW ISLANDS are more beautiful than Jamaica and few have suffered more disasters. The world hopes it may continue to add what has hitherto been true, that few if any have shown more indomitable will and recuperative powers.

Washington, Jan. 22.

"Were I personally paying for the canal I would have no hesitancy in recommending, in strongest terms, the construction of the locks on the sites selected." This is the final word of John F. Stevens, the Chief Engineer of the Panama canal, in reference to the criticisms that have been passed as to the sufficiency of the foundations for the great Gatum dam and the locks necessary to construct the canal on the approved plans. The strong words quoted are a part of a letter from him forwarded today by Chairman Shonts, of the canal commission, to the Senate committee on interoceanic canal.

The Panama railroad will be deprived of its separate corporate existence and placed under the direct charge of the Isthmian Canal Commission, under the direction of the President, if the action of the Senate committee on interoceanic canals today is endorsed by Congress. That committee today authorized Senator Morgan to make a favorable report on his bill to this effect.

President Roosevelt having visited the Corcoran Art Gallery and personally inspected three models awarded prizes in the competition for the Kosciusko statue to be erected on the northeast corner of Lafayette Square, opposite the Metropolitan Club, the stature commission, of which Secretary Taft is chairman, today announced its decision to accept the model of Antoni Popiel, the Austrian sculptor, provided certain changes are made. This final decision was reached by the commission after the President had indorsed its selection of the most desirable model for the purpose of the group of competitors in the exhibit. Altogether, seventeen models were presented in competition.

At the close of the Cabinet meeting today, one of the members who was present, gave his views on the Kingston incident, intimating they might be accepted as representing the views of the administration, as follows: "All I care to say is that we have the deepest sympathy for a government that is so unfortunate as to be represented as governor of one of her colonies by such a blundrring, silly ass as to insult its closest neighbors who, in a spirit of humanity, rush to render all friendly aid possible in the face of such a dreadful disaster."

Representative Livingston, of Georgia, today filed with the Postoffice Department additional evidence to support his charge that the New York Cotton Exchange is fraudulently using the United States mails and demanding that a fraud order be issued against the exchange.

Representative Scorgy, (rep. O.), today introduced in the House a bill appropriating $25,000 to erect a monument to Gen. U. S. Grant, at Clermont. O., his birthplace.

Dispatches received by the Interstate Commerce Commission indicate that the railway lines are not fulfilling the promises made to the Commission that everything possible would be done to relieve the fuel shortage situation in North Dakota.

The February Metropolitan, which has been received from its publishers in New York, is one of this magazines strongest numbers, containing absorbing articles with the best fiction and verse. "The Scars of War" is an account of the battlefields of Virginia as they are today, compared with their condition forty-five years ago. "With Secretary Root in Brazil" is of international importance. "The World at Large" condenses the news of the current month, and "The Drama" reviews the progress of the dramatic season. "The War of the Sexes" is an interesting paper and the fiction, consisting of eight short stories, is exceptionally good.

The instruction will be free, but no pay is given for the work accomplished. Public Printer Stillings announces in his order that in the event of reduction in the force of printers those who can operate the machines will be given the preference. He advises all those who can to attend the night school.

Guests who gathered at Atlantic City yesterday to witness the wedding of Miss Ida Zeisiniaz, a pretty Atlantic City girl, to Martin Blankenhorn, of Philadelphia, were given a surprise immediately after the ceremony, when the mother of the bride announced her wedding to Charles Everhardt, conductor of a New York orchestra. While the guests were congratulating the two happy pairs, Miss Mathilda, another daughter of the former Mrs. Zeisiniaz, brought forward Nelson Edwards, who was in the company, and introduced him as her husband of less than a month.

The Berlin correspondent of the London Daily Mail claims to know that the Pope has intervened in the German electoral struggle, causing the centrists to understand that warfare in Germany at the same moment the church is reeling in a death grip in France is intolerable, and notifying the Catholic leaders that they must place the highest interests of the church above their own selfish lust for political supremacy. The intervention will enable the Kaiser and the government to work hand in hand with their old ally and momentary enemy without making a humiliating submission and the Kaiser will emerge triumphantly, and the Kaiser's army and military bills will be carried with their votes.

The northbound special New York and Florida Vestibule, No. 88, Atlantic Coast Line, was wrecked at 8:20 o'clock last night, at Yemassee, a junction point fifty nine miles from Charleston, S. C. Engineer Johnson, of Florence, on train 88, was killed, and Engineer Horton and three train-hands of the freight were injured. The passenger train, composed of a baggage car and seven Pullmans, caught fire, and all except one car were burned. It was said that there were only a few passengers on board, and only one was hurt. A later dispatch says that four men were killed and two are missing. The cause of the wreck is believed to have been confusion in orders.

Senator Cullom Re-elected.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 22.—In joint session, the Illinois legislature today re elected Shelby M. Cullom to the United States Senate.

CONGRESSIONAL.

In the Senate yesterday as stated in the Gazette of that day Senator Tillman took the floor and delivered a speech in reply to the recent criticism of himself by Senator Spooner. This speech began with a satirical picture of the Senate as a minstrel show, which Mr. Tillman later said was his first and last attempt to be "funny."—an attempt which at its conclusion brought a stinging denunciation from Senator Carmack in resentment of allusions to him. This was preceded by a serious reply from Senator Spooner on the attitude taken by Mr. Tillman on the race problem, all finally resulting in a session of nearly two hours behind closed doors

The secret session was followed by a brief open one, in which Mr. Tillman made a profuse apology to Mr. Carmack, to all senators whom he had brought into his "first essay in the line of humor," and finally to the entire Senate. "I very much regret that I ever undertook to be funny, and I will never do so any more." Mr. Tillman then withdrew all he had said in his "funny essay," and said it would not appear in the Record. This apology was at once accepted by Mr. Carmack, who regretted that he had questioned the motives of his friend, and he, too, withdrew words he had uttered in protest. Mr. Foraker made a final attempt to get a vote on his compromise Brownsville resolution, but objection was made, and the matter will be taken up today. Mr. Carmack remarked jocularly that there were not more than 15 or 20 Senators desiring to talk, and Mr. Foraker, feigning seriousness, retorted hotly that the Senator need not think the democratic side of the chamber could monopolize the talking. Mr. Carmack explained that he was only trying to be funny, that it was his first attempt, and he would never make another. As Senators were laughing heartily over this parting sally, adjournment was taken at 6:15 o'clock.

The following are some of Mr. Tillman's remarks concerning the "minstrel show":

If I am entitled to a position among the burnt cork artists as Pitchfork Ben at one end of the line, Fire Alarm Joe Foraker ought to occupy the other end. We do the Orlando Furioso act admirably.

Then in between we have the solemn and serious minded Lone Star artist (Culberson), who has suddenly ceased to play the role of detective and performs a solo on the bones in praise of the President.

Then in line we have the brilliant and courtly Senator from Virginia (Daniel), whose specialty is oratory, and who works his rhetoric overtime.

Next we have the dying swan, Smiling Tom (Patterson), of Colorado, the State recently bought at auction by one Guggenheim. His act is very pathetic, indeed.

Next we have the redoubted Tennesseean (Carmack), who was once a knight, a very Hotspur in the lists. But his spear is broken off. He has been unhorsed. He joins the minstrels to sing a last song to the victor of Brownsville.

Next, as the negro preacher and telephone artist in the show, a veritable chameleon in his accuracy of reproducing White House colors, we have a Senator (Lodge) hailing from Massachusetts, the home of the sacred cod, where the Adamses vote for Douglas, and Lodge walks with the Almighty.

As a middleman we have the pompadour artist from Georgia (Clay), who depends upon his voice to carry conviction to his audience.

Then comes the star of the troupe, Gum Shoe Bill (Stone), from old Missouri. He can dance the highland fling on top of a ten-rail fence and never touch the ground, and his greatest feat is walking on eggs without breaking the shells.

Last we have the artist from the Badger State (Spooner), an acrobat and juggler of international reputation. He is supple, sly, and foxy, and having once been a lawyer, is noted for his ability to get on either side of any question. He sings bass, alto, soprano, or tenor, and is superb in any role.

The House passed the District of Columbia appropriation bill, and the bill to investigate the condition of child and women workers. By a vote of 181 to 10, the House yesterday passed a bill relating to the expatriation of citizens and their protection abroad. The bill provides that a naturalized citizen who leaves the country and dwells elsewhere continually for five years shall be presumed to have abandoned citizenship.

The Bowles Held.

A coroner's inquest was held yesterday on the body of Herbert Posey, who was shot and killed by Mrs. Mary E. Bowie and son, Henry Bowie, on Saturday afternoon, because, it is said, he refused to marry the daughter of Mrs. Bowie. The inquest was held at Pisgah, Md., near the scene of the tragedy. After viewing the body the jury adjourned until after the funeral of Posey, which was attended by about 200 persons. The jury then reconvened and brought in a verdict of wilful and deliberate murder against Mrs. Mary E. Bowie and Henry Bowie, who were held without bail for the action of the grand jury.

The defiant attitude of Mrs. Bowie Saturday, when she stood before Justice of the Peace Carpenter and exclaimed "Guilty" when the charge was read to her, and the statement of her son, Henry, that he had been looking for Posey with a shotgun for a week, leaves the "unwritten law" plea as their only means of escaping conviction.

The hearing in the case will be held this afternoon.

INCIDENT NEARING A CLOSE.

Great Britian has promptly disavowed any responsibility for the conduct of Governor Swettenham toward Rear Admiral Davis at Jamaica.

The British government officially expresses its gratitude for Admiral Davis's good work.

Failure of Governor Swettenham to explain to his superiors his action is taken as a confession of the weakness of his case.

While thanking the American people and navy for sympathy and assistance, the British Foreign Office says: "There will be no justification for further calls upon the generosity of the United States."

Gov. Swettenham is practically put in the position of making an apology in a British official statement that he requested the American government be thanked for Admiral Davis's assistance.

The British Secretary of War in a dispatch to Secretary Root directly implies censure of Swettenham.

While the British Governor of Jamaica was refusing aid from an American admiral the American Secretary of State was receiving a cordial welcome to Canada.

Replying to a telegram from the British charge d'affaires at Washington, reporting that the State Department had inquired whether Great Britain desired or was willing to accept further assistance, in money or other forms of aid, for the Kingston earthquake sufferers, the foreign office in London yesterday replied as follows:

"The offer of the American government to give further aid is gratefully appreciated by his majesty's government. The governor of Jamaica has not yet reported his requirements fully, but now that the first few days are over it appears likely that there will be no justification for further calls on the generosity of the United States. In the meantime, his majesty's government has been requested by Sir Alexander Swettenham to convey to the government of the United States cordial thanks for the prompt and powerful assistance which the United States navy, under Rear Admiral Davis, rendered to the inhabitants of Kingston in their suffering."

The State Department late yesterday afternoon received the following telegram from London under yesterday's date: "Hon. Elihu Root, Secretary of State, Washington:

"Have read in newspapers this morning what purports to be a letter from the Governor of Jamaica. Can only say that on materials before me I entertain, as responsible for troops in the island, feeling of deep gratitude to American Admiral for generous assistance tendered at most critical time. HALDANE,

"Secretary of State for War, London."

To this the following reply was sent: "Haldane, Secretary of State for War, London:

"The President greatly appreciates your cordial telegram and is glad if the proximity of this country has made it possible to be of the slightest assistance to the stricken people of Jamaica in this crisis. If, because of this proximity, and pending the arrival of your own warships and transports we can render any further aid whatever, the President earnestly hopes you will call on him without hesitation. We know how cheerfully you would render such aid to us were the circumstances reversed.

"BACON,

"Acting Secretary of State.

London, Jan. 22.—"Uncle Sam and John Bull have shaken hands and are smiling in the distorted face of the yellow press. The Jamaica incident is no more." In these words the Star today voices English sentiment on the Swettenham incident.

Despite the request of Colonial Secretary Elgin upon Governor Swettenham for full particulars, regarding his letter to Admiral Davis, no word has been received from that official. If he admits writing the letter an immediate apology will be offered to Washington.

Archbishop Nuttall, at Kingston, has cabled to President Roosevelt expressing the thanks of the community for the assistance rendered earthquake victims by Admiral Davis, according to the correspondent of the Evening Standard at Kingston. Citizens of Kingston, the correspondent asserts, are organizing a testimonial to President Roosevelt.

Kingston, Jan. 22.—Intense excitement bordering on a panic which reigned among the blacks here last night following a recurrence of the earthquake shocks of a week ago has subsided today. No serious damage resulted and it is generally understood even among the ignorant natives now that these slight shocks are apt to continue for some time.

The foreign population is rapidly leaving the city. Most of the tourists have already left and many of the families of the wealthy English merchants have gone either to England or to the United States.

Food is still scarce and medical supplies are scarcer.

The water works system is still paralyzed and there is grave fear of a spread of typhus fever.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 22.—Governor Swettenham has made partial amends for his discourteous treatment of Admiral Davis at Kingston, in the following telegram received at the State Department today, addressed to Secretary Root:

"Jamaica, Jan. 20—Jamaica profoundly grateful to your excellency for expression of sympathy and for the very practical aid so kindly given by Admiral Davis and the entire particular service squadron of the United States navy. "GOVERNOR."

It is assumed in government circles here that the telegram was sent by Gov. Swettenham upon orders from the British Foreign Affairs.

Assistant Secretary of State Bacon today gave out the text of Great Britain's official apology for the Swettenham incident. It was in the form of a letter from Esme Howard, Charge d' Affaires of the British Embassy in Washington as follows: "Sir—I have the honor to inform you under instructions received today from His Majesty's principal Secretary of State for foreign affairs that His Majesty's government are causing official inquiries to be made as to the authenticity of a letter which appeared in the public press this morning and purporting to be written by the Governor of Jamaica and addressed to Admiral Davis, commanding the United States squadron lately in Jamaican waters. Sir Edward Grey desires me to say that while he is so far dependent on the press only for information in regard to this incident, he deeply regrets, if the published text proves correct, that a British official should have addressed such a letter to the gallant admiral, who rendered valuable assistance to British subjects at a time of great suffering and distress, and that he is certain that his feeling of regret is shared by every one in Great Britain. I have the honor to be, with the highest consideration, sir, your most obedient humble servant,

"ESME HOWARD."

The Bywaters Murder.

Culpeper, Va., Jan. 22.—The Bywaters-Strothers murder case was called in the Circuit Court for Culpeper county yesterday by Judge Aiken, of Danville, but only for the purpose of recognizing the defendants to be in court next Thursday to answer to the grand jury under the same bond as given by them in the committing magistrate's court. The following compose the special grand jury: Joseph Wilmer, George H. Latham, A. C. Schinetzer, J. E. Parrison, Edgar Freeman, E. J. Nottingham, Harvey McVeigh, Charles Forbes and James P. Smith.

Commonwealth's Attorney Waite, of this county, announced to the court that for personal reasons he did not wish to have charge of the prosecution, and he was thereupon excused. The presiding judge then designated Commonwealth's Attorney John Keith, of Fauquier, to take charge of the prosecution of the Strotherses.

Mr. Keith at once asked that the grand jury be summoned to meet at 10 o'clock next Thursday morning to take up the case.

Sheriff Pulliam has withdrawn as sheriff during the trial and has designated Deputy Sheriff Bowersett to act. Owing to certain family connections the sheriff deemed it improper for him to act,

Mrs. Viola Bywaters, the widow of the murdered man, is reported to be very ill at her home, and it is doubtful whether she will be able to testify if the case is called for trial this week. It is, however, not believed that the trial will take place before the next term of court.

Culpeper, Va., Jan. 22.—Officers began today to summon the special grand jury drawn yesterday afternoon, for the purpose of investigating the killing of William Bywaters.

This jury will meet Thursday morning at 10 o'clock, and it is expected that fully a day or prehaps longer will be required for them to take testimony in the noted case.

It was said by Mr. John Jeffries, counsel for the defense, before he returned home yesterday, that the defense wanted a trial at this term and would demand one if the girl was at all able to testify. She is summoned as a witness for the commonwealth.

Opinion here is that the trial will have to be postponed.

James Strother, one of the principals, returned to his home in Welsh, W. Va., yesterday when it was announced the case would not be taken up by the grand jury until Thursday. The lawyers, both for the State and defense, also returned to their respective homes.

Serious Charge Against Sir Alfred Jones

New York, Jan. 22.—Serious accusations of having shown marked cruelty toward victims of the recent earthquake in Kingston are made against Sir Alfred Jones and members of his party of titled and prominent Englishmen by Mrs. Chalmers M. Craig, wife of a wealthy retired broker of this city, who was a witness to the disaster. She declares Sir Alfred Jones ordered from his steamer, the Port Kingston, many injured victims who had been carried there for treatment because their screams and groans annoyed the "fine ladies" of his party. Even the slightest aid to these victims was denied by the English party, according to Mrs. Craig. Her version of what occurred in Kingston also throws a new light on Governor Swettenham's action in asking the withdrawal of the American sailors and marines from Kingston. Mrs. Craig believes it was a desire on the Governor's part to curry favor with Sir Alfred Jones, which led him to send his now famous letter to Admiral Davis. After the shock many of the wounded were carried on board the Port Kingston, described by Mrs. Craig as "Sir Alfred's own vessel." There the surgeon and two young Englishmen pressed into service worked for hours amputating limbs. Anaesthetics gave out and many victims were operated on while they were conscious. Some died under the knife. "And through it all, Sir Alfred and his fine ladies and gentlemen wined and dined and made merry," Mrs. Craig is quoted as saying. "The high-bred ladies tripped across the bloody decks regardless of the dreadful scenes about them. In the morning some of the ladies complained to Sir Alfred that the shrieks and groans of the sufferers disturbed their rest. To please them Sir Alfred ordered every stranger, well or injured, removed from the vessel. His surgeon pleaded with him to no purpose, and we saw the poor victims of the earthquake carried from the vessel and laid in lines on the wharf." Mrs. Craig says food was denied the sufferers by Sir Alfred, and that workers who applied to him for refreshments were refused. Of Governor Swettenham Mrs. Craig said: "I think his action was somewhat influenced by a desire to stand well with Sir Alfred Jones, who dominated Jamaica."

Approaching German Election.

Berlin, Jan. 22.—Political excitement is at fever heat throughout Germany owing to the near approach of the end of the campaign on Thursday night. Friday is the election day. A German electoral campaign is peculiar in that there are fewer outward tokens of the contest. This is due to the restraints of the law.

There is only limited freedom of speech in Germany. Forty-eight hours' notice must be given the police before a meeting can be held. The police may prohibit all meetings. Statistics printed today show twenty-six meetings were prohibited, all socialistic gatherings.

All meetings are also supervised by the police. At every gathering an official stenographer taken down every word uttered and a uniformed officer sits beside the chairman's table.

An amusing feature of the campaign has been the number of prosecutions for displaying red flags or decorations. An engineer was arrested for raising a red flag on his own property and over 500 arrests have been made for a display of red ribbons, neckties, etc. In one case a widow was arrested for decorating a poodle dog with a red ribbon.

Mrs. Baker Absent.

Developments in the case of Mr. Powell Brookes, of Alexandria, charged with attempting to shoot Mrs. Alexander M. Baker, of Winchester, took a sensational turn in that city yesterday afternoon, when Commonwealth's Attorney J. P. Reardon took steps to have a fine imposed upon Mrs. Baker for contempt of court.

Mr. Reardon made a motion in the Corporation Court that a rule be issued to require Mrs. Baker to show cause why she should not be held in contempt for her failure to appear before the grand jury yesterday and testify in the case. The prosecuting attorney also requested the court to assess the costs in the case against Mrs. Baker.

Judge Atkinson promptly issued the rule yesterday, which is made returnable the first Monday in February. The January grand jury yesterday evening took up the Brookes case and examined five witnesses, including Miss Shipley, nurse at the Winchester Memorial Hospital, where the alleged attempt to shoot Mrs. Baker was made and Miss Didler, the nurse who rushed into the room in answer to screams of Mrs. Baker and her daughter. Miss Didler assisted Miss Baker in taking the revolver from young Brookes as the latter sat in his bed. Neither Mrs. Baker nor her daughter appeared before the grand jury, both being out of town.

While the grand jury was in session a peremptory order was sent to the court-room requesting Mrs. Baker to appear at once before that body. Attorney Reardon sent word that Mrs Baker was not in Winchester, and could not be found. Later the foreman of the jury announced that they had been unable to find a true bill against young Brookes, on account of the absence of Mrs. Baker and her daughter, the chief prosecuting witnesses.

Attorney Readon then insisted on the proceedings to have Mrs. Baker fined for contempt. A subpoena was some days ago served upon her, requiring her presence before the grand jury and holding her in penalty of $100. She can be fined this amount for failure to testify, and it is very likely that the fine will be imposed.

An interesting development in the case came to light when it was learned that Miss Virginia G. Baker, has escaped service of the subpoena requiring her presence in the grand jury room. Repeated efforts to find Miss Baker and serve the papers on her have been without result. Two weeks ago young Brookes was released on bail of $250. He failed to put ce yesterday but arrived at ist night, having been his attorney. The failure ry to find a true bill against n to indicate that the case l so far as he is concerned.

pera House.

The May Hillman Stock Company opened a week's engagement at the Opera House last night to a packed house, a large number of people being turned away. The piece produced last night was "Charity Bess," a four-act melodrama. Mr. Geo. Rosener, who is well-known here, played the part of Cyril Prescott in his usual fine style and made an excellent hero. Mauriel Aldrich gave a very careful portrayal of Elvira Thorn, a scheming woman, while Jack McKnight as Walter Wyld, was decidely clever. The principal part in the drama, "Charity Bess," was in the hands of Miss May Hillman, the clever little actress who made so many friends during her stay here last season. It is needless to say that Miss Hillman was excellent in her part, as she is always perfectly capable in any role she essays. All the members of the company were well up in their parts. The specialties were very good, especially those of Gaspard trick bicyclist, and the dancing on roller skates of Jack McKnight. Tonight the company will present Nat C. Goodwin's great success, "What Happened to Bones," a farce comedy of unusual merit. A great many requests have been made for the presentation of the drama which made a hit here before, "Flood Tide," and the piece will be presented during the week.

Alarms of Fire.

There were two alarms of fire last night, the first at 12:20 o'clock and the second two hours later, and both originated at the same place, Mr. Thomas E. Gorham's saloon, northwest corner of Duke and Fayette streets. At 12:20 o'clock fire was discovered in the east door on Fayette street and was gaining rapid headway when the department reached the scene and subdued it. At 2:35 another alarm was sounded, to which the fireman responded, and upon their arrival they found the fire virtually in the same portion of the building, although higher up and making its way into the roof. This was also quickly extinguished. It is believed that the fires were of incendiary origin.

Officers Lyles and Beach discovered the fire, and at first supposed it was the headlight of a locomotive at Duke and Fayette streets, but upon drawing nearer saw that the frame work of the east door was burning. They blew their whistles and ran to the Reliance engine house and soon had the department on the ground. The same officers, two hours later, discovered the second fire, and by their prompt action sounded another alarm and prevented what would have resulted in a serious conflagration.

Man Cut.

Word was sent to the station house last night that a man whose name could not be learned had been feloniously assaulted a short distance from this city near the Mahoneyville distillery, by Thomas Thorp. A description of the latter was given and the policemen of this city were requested to arrest him. Thorp, it is alleged, made a murderous assault on the man, using a knife, and inflicting serious cuts.

Installation Service.

At a called meeting of Chesapeake Presbytery in Washington last Saturday Rev. Joseph R. Sevier, the pastor-elect of the Second Presbyterian Church of this city, was received from the Presbytery of Montgomery. Order was taken for his installation Wednesday evening, January 23, at 7:30 o'clock. This impressive service will be conducted by a commission of the Presbytery appointed for that purpose. Rev. H. W. Pratt, of the Second Church, Washington, will preside and propound the constitutional questions; Rev. William Chinn, of Warrenton, will charge the pastor; Rev. James H. Taylor, of Washington Central, will charge the people. Rev. Jas. I. Vance, formerly pastor of the Second Church, and now of Newark, N. J., has accepted an invitation to be present and preach the sermon. The many friends of Dr. Vance in Alexandria will be delighted to learn that he will preach Wednesday night. Special music has been arranged for the service. The public is invited to attend the services Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Applied for the Positions.

The practical joker, according to his temperament, has implanted in his mind that "there is good in all things evil," or that it is an "ill wind that blows nobody good." A good joke is relished by an M. D., as is evidenced by the conversation of persons discussing how he enlisted the sympathies of high wage earners of Alexandria for the distressed victims of the Jamaica horror. A casual remark from the M. D. in the presence of carpenters intimated that ten or fifteen of that industrial brand were needed in Kingston at once and if they would apply at the British Embassy at Washington they would promptly receive appointments and immediate free transportation with a compensation of eight and ten dollars per diem. They were not expected to perform any labor themselves, but simply to direct the workmen employed in the construction of buildings. A number of applications were made in person and others by mail. Answers are awaited with interest.

Colored Relief Society.

The Colored Relief Society of this city met Friday evening and elected all old officers. The society in the past, with the assistance of the white friends of the colored people in Alexandria, has done much good, and it proposes to do what it can in the future to help those who are deserving and in need. Rev. George McGoins is in the city and has volunteered his services to solicit donations for the society, and his services were accepted by Superintendent Wm. A. Carter. Rev. McGoins will call on friends of the society during the next few days.

Fodder Rick Burned.

On Sunday last an incendiary set fire to a big fodder rick on the farm of Mr. W. A. Smoot, "Colderon," King George county. The rick, which measured 82 yards long by about 16 feet high, was entirely destroyed. The hands on the farm made every effort to save the fodder, but it being very dry and a high wind prevailing at the time, the entire rick was burned, entailing a considerable loss.

Funeral.

The funeral of the late John E. Welsh, whose death occurred at the Alexandria Hospital last Saturdry morning from injuries received at the Southern Railway roundhouse, Friday night, took place from the home of his mother, Mrs. Margaret Welsh, 622 south Patrick street, this afternoon. Rev. Edgar Carpentor, rector of Grace Church, officated, and the interment was made in Bethel Cemetery.

Police Court.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.]

The following cases were disposed of this morning:

John Robinson, colored, arrested by Officer Gill and Nicholson for fighting, was fined $5.

Basil Lucas, colored, arrested by the same officers on a similar charge, was dismissed

The Weather.

The weather was cold again last night, although the northwest wind was not as boisterous as on Sunday night. Considerable ice formed, but not enough on the river to cause any impediment to navigation. The mercury at 7 o'clock this morning stood at 28°. The steamer Washington from Norfolk arrived two hours late, having encountered head winds in coming up Chesapeake Bay.

Bar Meeting.

A meeting of the members of the Alexandria bar was held at 3 o'clock this evening in the Corporation Court room to discuss the matter of the proposed improvements to the clerk's office, etc City Engineer Dunn was present and explained the drawings and plans. An appropriation of $5,000 will be asked of Council tonight for the improvements.

Musical Tea.

A musical tea for the benefit of the Mission of the Good Sheperd will be given at Lee Camp Hall tomorrow (Wednesday) afternoon from four to six o'clock. Refreshments and a delightful musical programme are promised. Admission twenty-five cents.

It's a pleasure to tell our readers about a Cough Cure like D. Sheop's. For years Dr. Shoop has fought against the use of Opium, Chloroform, or other unsafe ingredients commonly found in Cough remedies. Dr. Shoop, it seems, has welcome the Pure Food and Drug Law recently enacted, for he has worked along similar lines many years. For nearly 20 years Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure containers have had a warning printed on them against Opium and other narcotic poisons. He has thus made it possible for mothers to protect their children by simply insisting on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Sold by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggists.

To stop a Cold with "Preventics" is safer than to let it run and cure it afterwards. Taken at the "sneeze stage" Preventics will head off all colds and Grippe, and perhaps save you from Pneumonia or Bronchitis. Preventics are little toothsome candy cold cure tablets selling in 5 cent and 25 cent boxes. If you are chilly, if you begin to sneeze, try Preventics. They will surely check the cold, and please you. Sold by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggists.

A CARD OF THANKS.

I take this method of tendering my sincere thanks to the policemen, members of the fire department and others for their quick response and effective work at the fires which broke out in my place of business last night. Their prompt appearance and effective labors prevented what would otherwise have resulted in a disastrous calamity.

Respectfully,
THOMAS E. GORHAM.

Women's Suits

Made to sell for $15 to $35. Now $4.98

Of course, this unheard-of reduction does not refer to suits of this season's—or, in fact, of last season's styles.

Our Garment Department has rounded up 200 Suits, which represent the left-overs from previous winter seasons, and to be rid of these at once we have cut prices almost down to zero.

All of the Suits included are well made, trim and neat, and will give excellent service. The fabrics are black cheviots, fancy mixtures, &c., and all sizes are represented.

For the economical woman who cares less for style and more for warmth and substantial wear, this is without doubt an opportunity of a lifetime.

SENATE.

The Senate was opened by prayer by Bishop Lawrence, of Massachusetts.

The credentials of Senator elect W. A. Smith, of Michigan, were presented.

The last official vestige of the sensational verbal encounter in the Senate yesterday afternoon between Messrs. Tillman and Carmack over the Brownsville case was removed in the Senate this afternoon.

The record showed that Mr. Carmack's scathing criticism of the South Carolinian would be published later. In accordance with the understanding that had preceded the apologies made in open session, last night, by both Senators of the Tennesseean's remarks and those provoking the retort should be expunged, this inadvertent reference to an unpleasant incident was corrected.

The Foraker resolution on the Brownsville case was laid aside until Mr. Sutherland had completed his remarks on the Smoot case.

Senator Sutherland, of Utah, today made his maiden speech. It was in defense of his colleague, Reed Smoot, who, because he in an apostle of the Mormon Church, is threatened with the loss of his seat in that body. Senator Sutherland is himself a Gentile, and, because he was speaking of a situation with which he is personally familiar, his remarks were listened to with great interest.

HOUSE.

The House today took up consideration of the diplomatic and consular appropriation bill. It carries an appropriation of $3,128,000 or $67,000 less than the amount appropriated this year. The bill contains recommendation of increases to the ministers to Denmark, Ecuador, Haiti, Morocco, Norway, Greece and Montengero, Paraguay and Uruguay, Persia, Portugal, Roumania and Servia, Siam, Sweden and Switzerland from $7,500 to $10,000 and that of the Dominican Republic from $5,000 to $10,000.

Swagger Sherley (dem. Ky.), in the general debate on the diplomatic and consular appropriation bill made an hour's speech today in the House on the treaty making power of the government. He advocated the passage of his bill to confer on the federal courts the undisputed power to punish violations of the rights conferred by treaties upon aliens domiciled in this county.

Justifies Governor Swettenham

The Paris Eclair thinks that Admiral Davis's intervention in Jamaica conforms to President Roosevelt's words to the effect that the construction of the Panama canal signifies that America is policing the two oceans, and especially the Caribbean sea. In accordance with this doctrine, the Americans have taken Porto Rico and Cuba, intervened in Santo Domingo, and showed great interest when Mont Pelee devastated Martinique. They regard themselves as at home in the Gulf of Mexico. Hitherto they have shown more regard for England, whose foreign office is always ready to multiply consessions for fear of losing Canada, but this time American boldness has gone too far.

The English were not wrong in mistrusting the Americans, who, with one foot in Jamaica, would soon have had four. The incident will doubtless finish the friendly relations between the two countries, but it shows how precarious is the friendship, almost alliance, of the two nations. Any dispute is all the more serious owing to England's alliance with Japan.

Mattox Weds.

G. D. Mattox, formerly a block station operator for the Southern Railway, whose alleged neglect caused the wreck Thanksgiving Day at Lawyers, resulting in the killing of President Samuel Spencer and others, eloped Sunday and was married at Pelham, N. C. His bride is Miss Traylor, daughter of John Traylor, a prominent farmer, who resides in Bedford county, near Lynchburg.

The couple left Lynchburg early Sunday morning, and reached Pelham at about noon. They were unaccompanied, and hurried to a justice of the peace, who married them. The cause of the elopement is not known.

Mattox is now at work with a construction company engaged on the Tidewater Railway near Hurts. He says he intends to apply for his former position as a railway telegrapher again as soon as the excitement blows over. The home of his bride, who is just twenty-one, is not far from the scene of the Thanksgiving day wreck.

TRAINING DOG POLICE.

Breaking In of the Seine Patrol One of the Sights of Paris.

The training of the young Newfoundlands that are periodically added to the staff is one of the sights of Paris. It takes place in the headquarters of the agents plongeurs, a small building on the quayside not far from the Cathedral of Notre Dame. Dogs and men enter into the exercise with zest, and there is usually a crowd of onlookers. Only dummy figures are used, but the "rescue" is nevertheless a very realistic affair. The big dogs know perfectly well what the exercise means, and they wait with comic enthusiasm until the dummy is thrown into the water and an agent plongeur rushes out on hearing the splash and the outcry of spectators. While the men are busy with lines and life buoys the dog plunges into the water, swims to the dummy, watches with rare intelligence for an opportunity to get an advantageous hold, and then it either swims ashore or waits for its master, who brings to the rescue long poles, cork belts and the like. The more experienced dogs, however, will easily effect a rescue from first to last without human assistance, and it is an inspiring sight to watch them looking for a foothold on the slippery sides of the river bank and pulling the heavy dummy into a place of safety.

It takes about four months to train the dogs efficiently. They are also charged with the protection of their masters when attacked by the desperate ruffians who sleep under the arches of the bridge in summer. Thus in Paris the police dogs are a proved success.—Century.

A GREAT BEER HOUSE.

Munich Owns the Oldest and Largest Saloon in the World.

The Hofbrauhaus of Munich is perhaps the oldest and largest saloon in the world, owned by the king of Bavaria and patronized by an average of 12,000 customers a day. On holidays the number often runs up to 15,000 and 16,000. Nothing to drink is sold but beer, brewed at the royal brewery, which was started by King Ludwig the Severe in 1255. The present Hofbrauhaus was built in 1644, and the beer was brewed on the spot until 1878, when the brewery was moved into the country to less expensive quarters.

There are seats for 1,500 customers, plain wooden benches without backs beside plain wooden tables without covers. In the garden or court are 100 empty beer barrels set on end, which are used for tables. The steins, which are very heavy and hold a quart of beer, are piled up in stacks before the bar on the floor in the morning, where they remain until they are used.

When a customer wants beer he picks out a stein, takes it to one of the basins of running water which line the walls and washes it himself. Then he carries it to the counter and hands it over to the bartender, who fills it with beer from the barrel. The price is 6 cents a stein, and the profits support the hospitals of the city, although the king could claim them if he desired to do so, as the brewery and the Hofbrauhaus belong to him by inheritance.—Chicago Record-Herald.

A Surfeit of Oratory.

One of the mistaken theories is that a "public speaker" is necessary to the success of any public affair. This theory had its rise at a time when oratory was a fad. Orators were cultivated, and they were supposed to take human passions in their hands and toy with them. In this practical age public speakers are a bore, and nobody cares anything about them. People gather to be entertained and not lectured. But, this theory having been established that a "public speaker" is important to a picnic, an orator is hauled out and set loose on a few old gentlemen with canes and a few mothers who must occupy the benches in taking care of the children.—Sabetha Herald.

Shot an Angel.

Now and again we hear of strange and rare birds being shot in England, but how many sportsmen except Mr. Wells' clergyman can claim to have shot an angel? One such man exists, though it is doubtful whether he is proud of his skill. It was nighttime, and he was passing Crayford parish churchyard with his gun over his shoulder when he saw what he took for a ghost. He leveled his piece and fired, but his aim was wild. He had failed to wing his quarry. Investigation showed that the ghost was a sculptured angel on a tomb, and he had shot off one of its toes!—London Chronicle.

High Finance.

"Say," began Burroughs, "lend me a five, will you?"

"See here," replied Markley. "If you'd only save your own money you wouldn't have to borrow from your friends."

"But by borrowing from my friends I do save my own money."—Catholic Standard and Times.
